SET FOR MONDAY.

Trial of Roy Green Scheduled Early Next Week.

Return of Coomes' Murderer-- Large Crowd Follows Prisoner.

Owensboro, Ky., Aug. 24.—Roy Green, the negro indicted Monday for the murder of James Coomes, was brought into court Tuesday morning and formally notified of the charge against him. He appeared perfectly calm and not to realize that he was facing a charge on which there appears no probability of escaping the extreme penalty.

Green's trial was set for Monday of next week, as early as could be done in order to avoid the possibility of having to reset it. The feature of the day was the announcement from the bench that Green would be tried at this term of court. A buzz of approbation ran through the crowd assembled in the court room when this announcement was made, and the general opinion was afterwards that it had eradicated any tendency that may have existed to attempt summary punishment.

The bringing of Green to Owensboro did not create the excitement which was expected. A small crowd of the curious was gathered at the station to see him as he got off the train, and the number received constant recruits, as it followed Sheriff Short and the prisoner to the court house. A considerable number of people from the county were seated about the court house yard and there, together with those who followed the prisoner, rushed into the court house, probably four hundred strong, and into the room where court was in session. It was evident, however, that the motive which prompted the men was mere curiosity and that there would be no attempt to take Green from the officers. Still, the presence of so large a number of men and the bare possibility of their becoming suddenly converted into a mob, determined the officers to take no unnecessary chances. After the formal presentation of the prisoner to the court he was turned over to Jailer Aahoy, who, with his sons, John and William, started with him to the jail. The crowd followed, but found that the outer doors of the building formed the limit of their following. The sheriff had stationed deputies at the doors and held them closed until a telephone message to the sheriff's office announced the iron doors of the Daviess county jail had closed behind the self-confessed perpetrator of the loudest murder ever committed within the confines of the county.

Louie Igleheart and Forest Roby were appointed to defend Green. It is understood that he will attempt to prove his innocence, and will denounce his confession on the night he was taken to Henderson as being procured by threats of turning him over to a mob in the event that he did not do so.

One of the most serious problems which will be presented for solution to the National Executive Board of the United Mine workers of America, which meets in Indianapolis this week is the situation in District 1. Secretary Wilson refuses to discuss the matter, but it is known that the board will attempt to solve the problem, which is fraught with much interest to miners of Kentucky and Tennessee.

Recognition for the Rathbone Sisters was the important action which marked the closing sessions of the Supreme Lodge, Knights of Pythias, in Louisville Wednesday. This result was not achieved without a struggle on the part of those opposed to recognition, the final vote standing 66 for and 49 against. But the Rathbone Sisters won, and henceforth is the recognized woman's auxiliary of the order.

The Japanese forces which are beleaguering Port Arthur have captured Chair fort and are said to be within a mile and a half of the city. St. Petersburg is full of the sinister rumors, but is clinging to the hope that Gen. Stoessel may be able to hold out. Advances at Chefoo indicate that the fortress can hold out only a short time and the Japanese residents are subscribing funds for a celebration. A Tokio dispatch says the Russian battleship Sevastopol has struck a mine and has been seriously damaged. Lao Yang is jubilant over a report that the Japanese assaults on Port Arthur have been repulsed.

FOUND IN WELL.

Fordsville People Find the Body of a Baby in Unused Well.

Considerable excitement was created at Fordsville Monday afternoon by the finding of a body of an infant in an old well at the public school house.

The body was that of a well-formed boy and gave every evidence of having been in the well for about two months.

When found there was a piece of cloth wrapped about the body. There were no marks of violence. It is understood that certain parties at Fordsville are suspected of the crime and racy developments are expected in a few days.

Since the above was put in type the following has been reported.

The officers were at once notified and suspicions settled on Allie Porter a young woman who had lived in Gainesville, a suburb of Fordsville, in which the school building is located. Warrants were issued for her, her mother, Cordie Porter, and her grand mother. The girl and her grand-mother left Fordsville about six weeks ago and went to Falls of Rough, while the mother of the girl remained in Fordsville, where she had work as a cook. She is now under arrest.

It is generally believed that the girl had made away with a child but it was not known and no search had been made for it.

Peruna is the remedy for catarrh. Almost everybody knows that by horses, and thousands know it by experience. What can be cured in the beginning in a week or two by using Peruna, if allowed to become chronic, may require months of faithful treatment. You had better take Peruna now for by and by you may be obliged to take it for some time in order to get well. Now the warm, dry weather will assist in your cure. You are not liable to catch fresh cold and delay your cure.

Hundreds of men of dignity and prominence from all over the United States endorse Peruna.

No other remedy receives such convincing testimonials. Send for free booklet of testimonials.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

IT'S SO

If it is Seen in The New York Sun.

New York Sun's Denunciation of Judge Parker's Speech of Acceptance.

The New York Sun, one of the most forceful independent Democratic news papers in America, which has supported McKinley in 1896 and 1900, vigorously criticized Roosevelt for the last two years and hoped to the last that it might be able to support the nominee and platform of the St. Louis convention, created a sensation in journalistic and political circles in the East by its instant repudiation of Judge Parker after listening to his speech of acceptance, and its unequivocal declaration in favor of Roosevelt and Fairbanks. The Sun's stand is said to have made a distinct impression upon the Sound Money Democrats who had been inclined to returned to the Democratic fold in the expectation that Judge Parker would rise superior to his party and platform. The Sun's tamaris editorial is reprinted in full below, from its issue of Thursday, August 11, the day following the notification ceremonies at Esopus.

ROOSEVELT AND FAIRBANKS.

"The campaign is now on. Both parties and both candidates have spoken.

"On one side a conservative party with a radically inclined and erstwhile too strenuous candidate for President; and behind him for the Vice Presidency, a man of undoubted capacity, sound opinions and mental and physical promise of endurance.

"On the other side a radical party, with an infinite capacity for mischief and a stupendous record of mischief actually accomplished, presenting for President a conservatively inclined candidate of irreproachable character and attractive personal accomplishments; and for Vice President one whose extreme age is the sole but sufficient reasons for apprehension in case of his succession to the Presidency.

"Such is the chance before the independent voter, and it is the independent voter who will decide this election.

"He cannot take Judge Parker on the Republican platform and record. He cannot reject Mr. Roosevelt without beckoning to the distant Huns; without helping to open the gates of power to political forces of unmeasured destructive potentiality. It seems better to maintain unbroken the wall of defense which the first election of McKinley established.

"Two things might have happened to make the choice of 1904 a choice between individuals rather than between parties standing on their respective records. Neither of the two things has happened. The first opportunity was deliberately avoided by the compromising tricksters at St. Louis. The second was deliberately thrown away at Rosemont yesterday. Barring Judge Parker's gold telegram of 1904, offsetting in some degree his two free silver votes for Bryan in 1896 and 1900, and barring a public anti-second term pledge which might have been made, perhaps more gracefully in an inaugural address after election, nothing has come from Judge Parker's lips or pen to indicate that he possesses a slight political idea making him as a statesman of independent initiative, of courage superior to the St. Louis brand, of stature to command and lead. With the two exceptions noted, he is an echo of the convention, and naught besides. He is yet the unknown quantity that he was throughout the preliminary period of silence prescribed by judicial dignity. Instead of rising above the platform, Judge Parker has crawled pretty ignominiously beneath it. He himself has decreed that the choice of the Independents shall be one of parties and record and principles, rather than of men.

"To state the Sun's position and its reasons therefore requires no meta-physical subtlety of explanation. The main consideration is as broad as the nation's interests. As the case is now made up, we prefer the impulsive candidate of the party of conservatism to the mildly conservative, temporizing, opportunist representative of the Hun vote in the back ground. We have more faith in the distinct promises of the Chicago platform, not ignoring the many serious defects of that document than we have in the miserable hell-broth of dishwater and dynamite concocted at St. Louis a month ago by a party afraid to renounce its criminal follies and tasted to-day at Esopus a respectable candidate who declares with gusto that its flavor is admirable.

"We shall, therefore, advocate the election of Roosevelt and Fairbanks and advise the defeat of Parker and Davis, preserving our own absolute independent of organic control and our freedom of judgement as to every specific question occurring. And may Hon. Theodore Roosevelt's present mood continue, and if he is elected may the Discourager of Precipitancy stand always at his elbow!

"In the politics of the Empire State, so far as they concern State matters, we shall support the candidate, whatever may be the partisan designation of his ticket, who seems to us the more likely to give the people of New York the honest and competent administration their public affairs so grievously need, and to wipe out the shame and evil of existing conditions."

PHILIPPINES WORK

Won't be Undone Says President Roosevelt.

His Letter to G. A. R. Encampment in Annual Session at Boston.

One of the chief features of the opening session of the annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic was the reading of a letter of regret from President Roosevelt. The letter was addressed to Gen. Blackmar, Commander of the Department of Massachusetts, and reads as follows:

White House, Washington D. C.
My Dear General Blackmar.

I have carefully considered the invitation which I received through you and your associates of the committee to attend this year the annual encampment of the grand Army of the Republic at Boston. It is with the most genuine regret that I find that it is impossible for me to accept.

One of the memories which I shall always cherish is the occasion two years ago when it was my good fortune to drive along the line of the Grand Army of the Republic and afterward from the stand to greet it as it passed in review. It is no disrespect to any other body of our citizens to say that the men who fought for the Union in the great civil war have a claim upon all Americans such as no other men in the country can have.

It is to you we owe the fact that we have a country at all, and every American to-day is under a debt of personal obligation to you and your comrades who in their youth and early manhood, in the supreme hour of the nation's need rallied to the call of Abraham Lincoln and after our weary years saw the triumph of the armies commanded by Ulysses S. Grant.

There have been other crises in the history of this government, but no since its foundation has there been any other in which the existence of the Government itself was at stake. Therefore it fell to the lot of you and those who stood with you from 1861 to 1865 to render the one service which was vital, not only to the well-being but to the very life of the nation.

Four years ago when your former comrade, my revered predecessor, President McKinley, being unable to attend your encampment, sent his greetings he used these words: "Your patriotic spirit still inspires the people, it led the volunteer armies which enlisted in the Spanish war to valiant service in Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines, and impelled the brave men who, under your comrade MacArthur, are now maintaining American authority in the Philippines and those under your other comrade, Chaffee, who had carried to our legation and to our citizens in China the protraction of the flag."

What President McKinley wrote then true is now. Under the lead of your comrades the Philippine Islands were won for the cause of civilization of civil liberty and of peace and justice. At this time it is only under the American flag that the people of the island can preserve the public order, the individual freedom and the material well-being which have come to them as the direct consequence of your brothers in arms of a younger generation. The work which has thus been done will not be undone the nation remains true to the memory of your own great deeds.

As the representative of all our people, I bid you God-speed, and send you this expression of the honor and esteem in which the nation holds the members of the encampment and their comrades throughout the country.

Sincerely yours

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Meaning of Orange Blossoms.

(Philadelphia Inquirer.) The orange tree is regarded as a prince among trees, and the emblem of genius. A peculiarity of this tree is that it bears fruit and flowers at the same time. Its leaves are evergreen and as it grows older it grows in beauty and fruitfulness, its blossoms filling the air with their fragrance. It is indeed a fit emblem of marriage promise and hope.

The orange tree is considered typical of love, because, though its fruit is golden and its flavor and scent delicious, its rind is bitter, and, as everyone knows, who has experienced it, Cupid's dart class caused pain. The orange is emblematic of gratitude as well as a genius and love.

Weak Hearts

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, pulling it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased.

The government is extending its mighty hand to throttle a nefarious business which has been thriving for some years past under the very noses of the authorities. It is an old industry, revived from time to time, and may be described as a system for utilizing the immigration service for the vital enslavement of multitudes of white children of foreign parentage.

The scheme in question has long been known as the "padrone system," and in simple terms, consists of an arrangement by which great numbers of little boys are purchased in Italy and Greece, and imported into this country to work as hoolibacks, peddlers, newspaper vendors, beggars, or what not, under the task-masters, who take from them all their earnings, giving them in return only a wretched subsistence, and often treating them cruelly. These children, after their arrival in the "land of the free," are bought and sold with just about as much regard for their feelings or wishes as if they were dogs or cats.

The price of a small boy in southern Italy or in Greece is from $25 to $50. Sometimes they may be obtained for as little as $10. Children are plentiful over there, and the poverty-stricken parents are not unwilling to allow their young sons to go to America—a wonderful country, where, as they have heard, wages are phenomenally high and riches easily acquired. Passage on the steamship will be paid, and the cash received is so much bonus.

So the buyer collects a consignment of boys without much trouble. He prefers that they shall be not more than nine or ten years of age, for reasons which will presently appear. The shipment of them is the only difficulty, because they cannot be sent in a bunch, lest the suspicions of our immigration authorities be aroused. They have to be sent over by ones and twos, accompanying adults, to whom they usually claim relationship, and it is necessary to coach them carefully in the answers they are to give to questions which are sure to be asked when they reach Ellis Island. If they fail in giving the proper replies they are liable to be sent back, and the speculator loses the money that he has already invested.

The importer of these human chattels sometimes does his own buying, making visits once or twice a year to Italy, or Greece, for that purpose. But, however this part of the business may be managed, the system on this side of the water is always pretty much the same. The "padrone" (master), who owns the boys by right of purchase, either rents them out to minor bosses, at so much a head, or else puts them to work on his own account, at peddling, blacking boots, or whatever employment may offer the best expectation of profit. In either case he pays them their wages—50 cents or $1 a week—and provides them with their meals and lodgings.

As might be imagined, the board and accommodations furnished to the unfortunate little slaves are extremely wretched. The food they get barely suffices to keep body and soul together, and commonly they are obliged to sleep on the floor, 25 or 30 of them in a room. It is not surprising that their proprietors make money rapidly. Many of the Italians banks in New York, Chicago and other cities are owned by men who were formerly "padrons," and some of them are still in the business.

If it be asked why the boys do not run away from their masters, the answer is simply that most of them are as young as to need to be taken care of. Ignorant of our institutions and language, they do not feel able to look out for themselves amid the turmoil of a city. So long as they remain with the "padrone," they are sure, at all events, of food to eat and a home—heaven save the mark—to go to. If they took their affairs into their own hands they might starve; and, besides their owner might catch them and beat them.

Nevertheless, when these slave children have reached the age of 14 or 15, they usually run away and start in business of some kind for themselves. And this is precisely why the "padrone" prefers to purchase boys who are not over nine or ten, and who may be counted on for at least three or four years of obedient service. Of course the supply has to be kept up by constant fresh importations, and some thousands of luckless youngsters have been delivered annually on this side of the water, destined for such servitude, for a long time past.

The "padrone system" thrives much more luxuriantly in certain inland cities, especially Chicago and Pittsburgh, than in New York. Dealers in the Metropolis forward the boys to the West as fast as they arrive, and, on delivery at their destinations, they are sorted out and bought and sold like any other merchandise. In some cases the slave merchant who does a western trade resides in New York and disposes of the children, at 50 many dollars apiece, wherever they may be a demand for them. An Italian or Greek boy, of suitable age, is always a marketable article.

It is just a common cold, people say, there's no danger in that. Admitting their statement, then there are uncommon colds, colds which are dangerous; for many a fatal sickness begins with a cold. If we could tell the common cold from the uncommon we could feel quite safe. But we can't. The uncommon variety is rarely recognized until it has fastened its hold on the lungs, and there are symptoms of consumption.

At the first symptoms the careful person will heed the warning by taking a mild laxative; some vegetable pill that will not disturb the system or cause griping. About the best is "Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets." If the cold starts with a cough, and it persists then some local treatment for this condition should be taken. A well known alternative extract, which has been highly recommended by thousands of users, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This tonic compound is composed of an extract of roots and herbs and has a soothing effect upon the mucous membrane, allays the irritation and at the same time works on the proper and reasonable way, at the seat of the trouble—the stagnated or poisoned blood.

It contains no alcohol to shiver up the blood corpuscles, but makes pure rich red blood.

In Pierce's 1000-page illustrated book, "The Common Sense Medical Adviser," is sent free in paper covers on receipt of 21 eleven-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only. For 11 stamps the cloth-bound volume will be sent, 1008 pages. It was formerly sold for $1.50 per copy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Book 18, page 312, Ohio County Clerk's Office; and the same thereafter conveyed by Chas. Tally and wife to J. A. St. Clair, as is evidenced by deed of record in Deed Book 24 page 547, office aforesaid." Levied upon the property as the property of John A. St. Clair. Said property will first be sold and the proceeds applied to the payment of the debt, interest and cost of Globe Fertilizer Co. vs. John A. St. Clair, and the residue, if any, will be applied to the debt, interest and cost of S. A. Anderson, Adm'r. vs. John A. St. Clair.

The sale will be made on a credit of three months, bond with approved security required, bearing interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum from day of sale, having the force and effect of a sale bond.

That Parker Telegram.

Collier's Weekly is one of the papers which tries to maintain a conservative, independent position. The taste of its editor is world-wide and his serious judgment is as sound as his sarcasm and humor. The following concerning Mr. Parker's telegram, which forms the leading editorial in the current issue of Collier's under the head of "Hysteria," should be read by every fair-minded voter:

There is coming to pass in regard to the Parker telegram about what was to be expected. It matters not whether they are for the Judge's election or against it ordinary, clear headed Americans must suffer a reaction after being worked into excitement over allegations that are assured. They must come to see the facts in the more or less clear light of common sense. They observe the part played by Mr. August Belmont in the present campaign. They read that Senator McCarren receives a salary of $20,000 a year from the Standard Oil Company. Whether that be true or not, it is certain that the Senator is a very "smooth" man. They know something of the history of the adroit Blue-Byed "Billy" Sheehan and a good deal more of the history of David Bennett Hill. The principles of Bourke Cockran are not shrouded in mystery. These men form the group nearest to Judge Parker; most likely to know and influence his councils; most likely, were he President, to compose or suggest his Cabinet. Now, men of this stamp secured the nomination of Judge Parker at St. Louis, acting as his spokesmen. Certain promises were necessary to obtain that prize. When the nomination was secure, and could not be taken away, without putting the Democratic party in the position of seeming to reject a man because he favored gold, the Judge sent his telegram. He was immediately hailed by that part of the press which is primarily interested in markets as a hero who had been willing to sacrifice the Presidency to his duty. Such idiocy must have its rebound. Bryan's cross of gold metaphor, which drove another class of people into frenzy, had its reaction, although even it, fallacious as it was, had a much solidier foundation than the childish story that to offer back a nomination when it could not possibly be withdrawn without absurd disaster was the bravest deed ever perpetrated in American politics. Inanities of that kind never pay. The people may become excited for a moment, but then they settle down to contemplate with disgust the spectacle they have made. Judge Parker played good politics, or he did not. Those who tried to turn him into a hero did all they could to turn him into an ass. The newspaper which is trying to prove that it forced him to send the telegram is not doing him any more harm than the others which are still hailing him as a hero. If the Democrats wish to carry New York, not to talk of any western State, they had better get busy and show that Judge Parker is less of a plutocrat and more of a Democrat than he seems to be."

Mysterious Circumstance.

One was pale and sallow and the other fresh and rosy. Whence the difference? She who is blushing with health uses Dr. King's New Life Pills to maintain it. The Jap's Method of Recording Time.

The Japanese divide the twenty four hours into twelve periods, of which six belongs to the night and six to the day, the day beginning at sunrise and ending at sunset. Whether the day or night be long or short, there are always six periods in each.

To attain this the characters or numerals on the scale of their timepiece are adjustable. Two of them are set, one to agree with the sunrise, the other with sunset and the four characters between them divide the space into equal portions. Thus when the period of daylight is longer than the night the day hours will be proportionally longer than those at night. Another peculiarity in their scale is that they use only six characters, those from 4 to 9, and those read backward instead of forward.

A Perfect Painless Pill

Is the one that will cleanse the system, set the liver to action, remove the bile, clear the complexion, cure headache and leave a good taste in the mouth. The famous little pills for doing such work pleasantly and effectually are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Drinking at Meals.

[Medical Talk for Home.] It is a bad habit to take any liquid with meals. The food is not sufficiently mixed with saliva, and the gastric and digestive juices are diluted, rendering the task of digestion more complex and difficult. Drinking at meals is often the sole cause of dyspepsia. Quit for awhile and note the difference. About two hours after eating and up to about one hour before the next meal drink a quart or more of pure water. Try this for one month and see how you feel by that time.

Better Than Gold.

"I was troubled for several years with chronic indigestion and nervous debility," writes F. J. Green, of Lancaster, N. H. "No remedy helped me until I began using Electric Bitters, which did me more good than all the medicines I ever used. They have also kept my wife in excellent health for years. She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak, run down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. Only 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 26.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

CHARLES W. FAIRBANKS.

DR. BEN L. BRUNER.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

FOR JAILER.

THE COUNTRY IS NOT YET READY TO FORGET THE FOUR YEARS OF DISASTER.

It was really amusing to see Uncle Henry Davis cut the pigeon wing at the notification ball.

The latest society bid is the "Igor-te ball" which was inaugurated by the summer girls at Atlantic City.

The final decision of the committee seems to be for Parker to make the music while Granita Davis does the dancing.

The election of a Democratic congress would insure another reign of cheap products and the cheapest of these products would be labor.

The mite Democrat candidate for President refuses to speak in his own behalf but wants Cleveland's old secretary to talk gold for him.

CANDIDATE PARKER assures the voters that Democracy is a coming party. One serious trouble is that it always arrives four years behind time.

A KANSAS woman recently sued her husband for divorce because he willingly did everything she requested. It is safe to say that but few are guilty of such conduct.

The scarcity of Kentucky horses can be accounted for in no way except that they have been privately engaged for the use of another 100,000 Kentuckians to march to Washington under the leadership of Marse Henry.

IT IS A source of regret on the part of Republicans that Candidate Parker will not take the stump in his own behalf during this campaign. Judging from the effect of his speech of acceptance Roosevelt would carry every State where he addressed the voters.

THE Lexington Leader says: "The efforts of the Democratic campaign managers to hunch enough 'dope' into grand-daddy Davis to make him take the bit in his teeth and occasionally kick a hole in the dashboard are as amusing as they are transparent."

A FACT that perhaps but few people know and which we were apprised of only a few days ago is that there is only one Republican newspaper published in the Fourth Congressional district. Of the forty or more newspapers published in the thirteen counties comprising the district all are Democratic or independent except THE HARTFORD REPUBLICAN.

PARKER'S ACCEPTANCE.

Candidate Parker, in his speech of acceptance, did not say anything to show that he is any more courageous than his party. He thanked the committee on notification for the confidence shown by the St. Louis con-

Bryan's View of Nomination.

"I have nothing to take back, I have nothing to withdraw of the things that I have said against the methods pursued to advance his candidacy. It was a plain deliberate attempt to deceive the party. The New York platform was vague and purposely so because the advocates of Judge Parker were trying to secure votes from among the people who would have opposed his views had they known them. * * * The nomination was secured, therefore, by crooked and indefensible methods."

vention in not reconsidering his nomination after he had telegraphed that he considered the gold standard firmly and irrevocably established. This was substantially an apology for that telegram. The Judge did not offend the Bryan wing of the party any farther, as he might by reiterating his convictions regarding the stability of the gold standard. He rested his case on his telegram and in all other things followed the motto of his political director and adviser, David B. Hill, "I am a Democrat."

He is certainly a Democrat on the labor question for he expressed his willingness to go with his party, it matters not whether it is for or against the labor unions; he is also a Democrat on Imperialism and will act with his party on any policy regarding the Philippines when he learns what that policy is, he is a Democrat on the Tariff and in favor of Tariff reform but explains to the opponents of that policy that they need not fear for the Republican Senate will protect the country from such folly as Democratic free trade during his incumbency of office if he should be elected; and he gives further assurance by declaring that he will not be a candidate for re-election which relieves any possibility of his endangering the country in the future.

In fact Candidate Parker takes no more definite stand on any question than does the platform of cowardice and evasion adopted at St. Louis. He straddled every question in issue which he discussed and did not even mention the most recent Democratic issue regarding the Panama canal which Senator Gorman raised in the Senate last winter by delaying the treaty with Panama and accusing the administration of irregularity and complicity in the revolution on the Isthmus.

The effect of Candidate Parker's speech of acceptance has been to emphasize the fact that if his party should break into power and be able to control he would do anything the bosses direct.

Duff-Bean.

On Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the bride's home in Dundee, Dr. James A. Duff was united in marriage to Miss Mattie R. Bean, Rev. G. J. Bean was the officiating clergyman; James M. DeWeese was the groom's man and Miss Murrell Gregory, of Cloverport, the bride's maid. Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom repaired to the bride's home where a splendid dinner was served to them and their immediate friends and relatives.

Dr. Duff is a young man of character and attainments. He taught successfully in the public schools of the county for a number of years, graduated from Hartford College with credit, and was given the degree of Doctor of Medicine by the Hospital College of Medicine, Louisville, in July. No young man in the county is more universally esteemed by those who know him. He has entered upon his chosen profession envied by everything calculated to make him contented and successful, while before him spread out possibilities hardly circumscribed by the reasonable calculation of the imagination.

Miss Bean is the daughter of W. R. Bean. She is very pretty and a musician of much accomplishment. She is noted for her uniformly kind and courteous demeanor and is a general favorite in the community in which she lives.

Mr. and Mrs. Duff will be at home at Sulphur Springs Monday.

THE REPUBLICAN wishes to extend its congratulations to these popular young people and to the excellent families which they represent, and rejoice with them in the consummation of love's dream.

Bryan's View of Platform.

"I shall not misrepresent the situation, or ask for votes for the ticket upon false grounds. A democratic victory will mean very little, if any progress on economic questions so long as the party is under the control of the Wall Street element. * * * The labor plank as prepared by Judge Parker's friends on the sub-committee was a straddling, meaningless plank. * * * The nomination of Judge Parker virtually nullifies the anti-trust plank."

GOLD IN OKLAHOMA.

Treasure Hunters Search for Buried Wealth.

Told of in Legends. But no One Has Yet Been Able to Discover Any of It.

Oklahoma, for so many years the home of the outlaw and desperado, has her stories of buried treasure which rival in magnitude the tales of wealth buried along the Atlantic coast by Capt. Kidd and other rangers of the Spanish main. Every now and then men with modern blue prints or well-thumbed maps appear in an otherwise peaceful community and by mysterious signs convey the information that they have come to seek the buried treasure of fabulous wealth.

One of the best of these stories which many credited is that dealing with the Tres Pintas gold. How much there is supposed to have been has long since been lost in obscurity, for it is a legend handed down by the Catholic priests in Old Mexico. It is often told how these men have kept the knowledge to themselves until by chance it was revealed to a stranger, who, taking up the thread, has followed it through and found the burial place. The story is only partly fanciful, for it is beyond question that men have at various times gone to Beaver county—the No Man's Land of the early history—and there sought the Castilians' wealth.

According to the legend, a Spanish colonist in search of Eldorado traversed the plains to the northeast of Mexico. At a distance of every ten or fifteen miles they set guide posts of stone inscribed with the letter V. When near what is now Garrett, in Beaver county, it was decided to bury the treasure, which is supposed to have been enormous. The remaining guide posts were so planted at a distance of half a mile apart that the apex of each V pointed to a spot in the center of the circle. They continued their journey, but were massacred by a band of Indians. Only one was able to return to Mexico, where he soon after died from exposure before he could do more than give the incomplete directions needed.

It is related that an effort was made to follow the train, but it was lost near Santa Fe, and the search was given up. Recently Mitchell Ryan, an Irishman, who has lived his life among the Mexicans, was found digging in a basin between Cimarron and Cerrumpa rivers. He admitted to the sheriff of the county who found him at his work, that he had discovered guide posts and found the circular ring described in the legend. What success he had is not known, but he left one day and has never since been seen in the vicinity.

All the gold reported to be buried, however, is not in the western part of the territory, for, as the story goes, there is $100,000 in gold dust buried on the farm of Joe Boulanger in the Osage Nation, near Pawhuska.

A Sweet Breath
Is a never failing sign of a healthy stomach. When the breath is bad the stomach is out of order. There is no remedy in the world equal to Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for curing indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach disorders. Mrs. Mary S. Crick, of White Plains, Ky., writes: "I have been a dyspeptic for years; tried all kinds of remedies but continued to grow worse. By the use of Kodol I began to improve at once, and after taking a few bottles am fully restored in weight, health and strength and can eat whatever I like." Kodol digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Sold by J. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

Two Centuries of the American Press.

In addition to its other distinctions the year 1904 marks the completion of two centuries since the first American newspaper was started. That paper was the Boston News Letter, whose publisher and editor was the Postmaster of that town. Although the News Letter consisted of a sheet of only seven inches by ten and a half, printed on both sides, it was the only paper that England's colonies in the New World had for over a decade and a half. Philadelphia got the second paper established in America, and New York got the third. All these were technically weeklies, but often in the early days there were intervals of two or three weeks between their successive appearances. The first daily paper in the New World was the American Daily Advertiser, printed in Philadelphia. After nearly a century had elapsed since the first newspaper appeared on this continent—or in 1800—there were only fifteen dailies and 100 weeklies in the United States.

The contrast between those days and to-day is striking. There are 14,000 newspapers and periodicals of all sorts—weeklies, semi-weeklies, tri-weeklies, monthlies and quarterlies—published in the United States in 1904, of which about 2,400 are dailies and 16,000 weeklies. Any one of two or three of New York's daily papers of 1904 has a larger circulation than did all the daily and weekly papers published in the United States in 1804.

Many newspapers are in the country to-day which have scored more than a century of years. The Hartford Courant dates back to 1764, the Philadelphia North American made its first appearance in 1771, while the Baltimore American was established in 1873, the Pittsburg Gazette (the oldest newspaper west of the Alleghenies) in 1786, the New York Globe and Commercial Advertiser in 1797, the New York Evening Post in 1801, the Charleston News and Courier (the oldest of the South's newspapers) in 1803, and others which have passed the 100-year mark escape our memory at the moment. The oldest illustrated paper in the United States is Leslie's Weekly, which was established in 1855. A weekly paper in Philadelphia, the Saturday Evening Post, claims to date back from 1728.

Pointed Paragraphs.

Society is human nature on dress parade.

A woman flatters with her eyes: a man with his tongue.

Many a homely woman has the face to pose as a work of art.

The circle in which most of us move is but a scant half-mile track.

Even when the worm does turn, it doesn't create very much excitement.

It's a pity we can't insure our pipe dreams before they go up in smoke.

Did you ever see a newspaper portrait of a man who was in politics for his health.

A penniless man is always telling you how charitable he would be if he had the price.

A man's clothes are less apt to make him than his wife's dressmaker are to break him.

It's easy for an editor to drop into poetry; all he has to do is to sit down in his waste basket.

Over 300 umbrellas were found in the room of a St. Louis crook. He believed in laying up something for a rainy day.

Women Replace Horses.

Incredible as it may seem, there are some places in Europe where women are regularly plowed instead of horses. That woman was never intended for this kind of work has long been admitted in all civilized countries, but simply because a woman is seen drawing a plow it would be rash to infer that she is necessarily working very hard. The plow is not cutting a deep furrow, but is merely scratching the ground, and as it is very light the woman draws it after her with ease. There are certain wild districts where the work is much harder, but even there the women do it patiently and never utter a word of complaint. The reason why women take the place of horses is not because the men are callous or lazy, but because horses are prized very highly and their owners never dream of working them for more than a few hours each day. If deep furrows have to be cut through a field the horse does it, but lighter tasks he disdains and the woman takes his place as a matter of course.

WORSHIP UNCLOTHED.

South American Indians Have Queer Ritual Which Includes English Alphabet.

The British Commissioners who have been in the interior for the demarcation of the boundary between British Guiana met with some strange experiences. At Keralma the commissioners found Klag Jeremlah had a church built in which he conducted three times a day a curious service, attended by all the Indians in the vicinity. Jeremlah, in his capacity of Priest, robed himself in some ancient European garments and took up his position at the East end of the building, facing the worshippers, who all knelt devoutly. The men occupied one side of the church and the women and children the other. The worshippers, unlike their priest were entirely unclothed. The services consisted in counting from one to ten and saying the alphabet in English, each being recited first by the priest and then repeated by the congregation. Both having been done through ten times, the priest ran through a lot of names, among which Jesus Christ and God frequently occurred, the congregation reverently repeating these also. Jeremlah cannot read or write, and teaches the people nothing more than this curious ritual, but evidently he has considerable authority over his people, which he wields for good. He possesses three wives, many children and three or four houses in different parts of the country.

Three Hundred Buffalo in a Herd in Montana.

There are several herds of Buffalo in America, but all of them combined would not equal in size the Allard herd of the Flathead reservation in Montana. The herd sprang from two buffalo calves captured twenty years ago by an Indian.

Charles Allard, one of the leading braves of the reservation, took the calves, and capturing a few others, started out with a herd of five. It was his intention to fatten them like beavers and use them when hunting was poor. Maj. Peter Roman, at that time Indian agent at the reservation suggested to Allard that it might be a good idea to breed the buffalo, as the animals were becoming scarce in that territory.

The herd now numbers 300 and is valued at $250,000. Allard has given but little attention to his buffalo. They have made little attempt to leave the little valley of the Flathead where they have been captured. Mountain walls easily barred any such inclination, and the Indians along the various passes have taken care to see that "Charley" Allard's herd did not escape. Allard did not realize that he was a wealthy man until one day he was offered $200 for one of his herd by a circus agent. Parts of the herd have been exhibited all over the United States. They were one of the great attractions of the World's Fair in Chicago.

Just before Allard died he called on the man who had suggested the buffalo-breeding idea and gave him a present of $500. Two half-breed sons survive the old Indian. When they need money they kill the oldest buffalo in the herd and sell it to Butte butchers. The hide brings $500 and the meat also sells for another $500.

The meat finds ready sale. It Butte at $1 a pound. Wealthy miners and others pay from $10 to $12 for the choicest cuts and invite their friends in for a buffalo dinner.

Minister Wu's Sebuke.
Mr. Wu, former Chinese Minister, noted for his sharp wit and ready repartee, was on one occasion honored by a visit from a delegation of women interested in the cause of foreign missions. From the Minister they desired some complimentary remarks in reference to the indebtedness which China owed the efforts of the missionaries. The Ambassador was reluctant to give credit to the foreigners, asserting that China's progress was due to Chinese effort and patriotism. Said one of the ladies:

"Why don't you relieve your women from the cruelty of tight shoes?"
"Because," answered the Ambassador, "a small shoe is preferable to a small waist, and it is easier to keep such a foot out of the affairs of other people."

ARMIES AT BULL RUN.

Great Mimic Warfare to be Fought out Three.

Thirty thousand Regular Troops and Militia are to Maneuver at Historic Battle Ground.

The roar of the cannon and musketry, din and clash of battle, the heavy tramp of marching armies and the thunder of the hoofbeats of the dashing cavalry which over 40 years ago shook the hills and the valleys of Virginia is soon again to be heard upon the historic battlefield of Bull Run. It was here that the first great battle of the civil war was fought, and it is here that the greatest army maneuvers which have ever been attempted in this country in times of peace will be carried out. The battle of Bull Run, or battle of Manassas, as it is referred to in the south, is to be fought over again. There will be no bloody carriages to be sure, such as marked the desperate conflict between the blue and the gray, and the features of gallant charges and desperate assault will be lacking, owing to the improve engines of war, but the maneuvering of 30,000 troops which will be present will be something more than military display. New problems of warfare which have arisen with the advent of the small bore, high-powered magazine arm, the deadly machine gun and the powerful, long ranged siege gun, will be worked out.

The 30,000 troops for the regular army and militia organizations will come from almost every state in the union east of the Mississippi river and great benefits to both the regular establishment and the militia organizations are expected to result from the operations. The actual maneuvers will last from September 5 to September 10, but the great part of militia will be on the grounds before the former date and will remain some time after the last or the last of the sham engagements have been fought and the set problems of mimic warfare have been satisfactorily solved.

I consider it the best remedy in the world for bowel complaints. For sale by all druggists."

An Insoluble Mystery.

Gov. Pennypacker, of Pennsylvania, was reviewing the State militia at Gettysburg. A young staff officer described to him in a low voice some unimportant error that had been made. "But as to the cause of the error, sir," he said, "that is a mystery."

Gov. Pennypacker smiled. "It is a mystery," he said, "it is like the pickled pork disaster that befall two Pennsylvania Dutchmen, Hans and Fritz."

"These two men bought a lot of pickled pork in partnership. They put it in a barrel, and stored it away in the cellar of Hans' home. Now, Hans, though a Pennsylvania Dutchman, was dishonest. The combination is rare."

"Well, the morning after the deal in pickled pork, Fritz met Hans on the road. 'Good morning, Hans,' he said. 'Is there any news about our pickled pork?'"

"Fritz," Hans answered gravely, "there is news, and bad news. A strange thing has happened. It is a mystery to me."

"Well, Hans, tell me all about it," said Fritz.

"Fritz," Hans said, "my friend, was like this, 'This morning I went down cellar to get a piece of pork for my breakfast, and I put my hand down in the barrel, and I felt around in the brine, and there was no pork there. It was all gone—all gone completely. So then I turned up the barrel, and as true as you are alive, the rats had eaten a hole clean through the bottom and dragged the pork all out.'"

"Fritz was amazed and stunned. 'Why didn't the brine run out of the hole?' he asked."

"Ah, Fritz," said the other, "that's the mystery. That's the mystery."

Escaped an Awful Fate.

Mr. H. Hagios, of Melbourne, Fla., writes: "My doctor told me I had Consumption and nothing could be done for me. I was given up to die. The offer of a free trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, induced me to try it. Results were startling. I am now on the road to recovery and owe all to Dr. King's New Discovery. It surely saved my life." This great cure is guaranteed for all throat and lung diseases by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro., Druggists. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial Bottles free.

Where the Benefit Goes.

No, not! Burnt children dread the fire, and Democratic talk about a "robber tariff" in this year 1904 will not win intelligent votes.

No Need to Marry.

Miss Matilda Nitman frankly admits that she is an old maid and means to remain an old maid to the end of the chapter.

A friend recently asked her why she did not marry.

"Why should I?" Miss Nitman answered. "I have a dog that growls and a parrot that swears and a cat that stay out nights."

Tinkers and Pluggers.

The Democratic party, including Bryan, admits defeat until the next campaign on the issue of honest money. So it is proposed to fight this year on the issue of the Tariff.

For eight years the Democratic party has fought the honesty of the honest laborer's wages. No the fight is against the sufficiency of the laborer's work. The people related successfully in 1896 and in 1900 the fifty-cent dollar in the pay envelope, and will resist as successfully half time in the works of industry.

The Republican party and its candidate represent steady employment at American wages. That party and its candidate will be victorious over the Tariff tinkers as over the dollar pluggers.
